RE: In the Matter of Facilitating the Deployment of Text-to-911 and Other Next Generation 911 Applications, PS Docket No. 11-153; Framework for Next Generation 911 Deployment, PS Docket No. 10-255; Amending the Definition of Interconnected VoIP Service in Section 9.3 of the Commission's Rules, GN Docket No. 11-117; Wireless E911 Location Accuracy Requirements, PS Docket No. 07-114; E911 Requirements for IP-Enabled Service Providers, WC Docket No. 05-196

Dear Ms. Dortch:

Pursuant to Section 1.1206(b) of the Commission's rules, this letter will confirm that on Monday, June 11, 2012, Stephen Meer, Mary Boyd, and Bill Hinkle of Intrado met with David Turetsky, Bureau Chief, and Patrick Donovan, Attorney Advisor, of the Public Safety and Homeland Security Bureau.

During the meeting, Intrado discussed the following: that in the course of its deployment of competitive 911 services to PSAPs, Intrado has encountered interconnection issues; that in light of network architecture design associated with internet protocol (IP) networks, the Commission should consider revisiting its King County ruling setting forth the network demarcation for wireless 911 calls; that there is a need for public education related to text to 911 and that previous education models used for wireline and wireless deployments would be instructive for text; that current outage reporting requirements apply to carriers, but not to PSAPs, therefore the Commission will not have a complete understanding of outages of 911 calls; that the Commission should communicate any forthcoming location accuracy standards, allowing time for systems to be developed to meet those standards; that current 911 Best Practices were developed for legacy 911 calls and the Commission should consider best practices for 911 in an IP environment to ensure redundancy, resiliency and secure 911 systems.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

/s/
